ABOUT ME

Hello! I am 2008-born student at ITIS Leonardo da Vinci in Parma, specializing in Computer Science, with a diploma expected in 2027.
I am passionate about technology and programming, with skills in front-end development (HTML, CSS, JS) and C programming.
I also have an interest in home automation and electronics, working on Raspberry Pi projects like a media center.

PERSONALITY

I am curious, determined, and a team player, always eager to learn and improve, including my English communication skills.
I am looking for opportunities to apply my knowledge, grow professionally, and contribute to innovative projects.

HOBBIES

I enjoy mountain biking, which combines sport and adventure, and playing the guitar, a passion through which I express my creativity.
